Another Christmas with Wera:

Advent Calendar with a compact and portable screw-driving workshop

Wuppertal. After 2020's eventful and challenging year, many people will use the coming Christmas season to bring joy to others and to express their solidarity and togetherness.

The Advent calendar from Wuppertal screwdriver manufacturer Wera has become a classic gift in the run-up to Christmas, and it is being released for the eleventh time this year. Nevertheless, each year's is unique, as it is always equipped with a different variety of quality tools.

The 24 doors of the 2020 edition hide a complete screwdriving workshop for 17 different screw profiles, so that the calendar has something to offer for every ambitious craftsperson. The included Zyklop Mini 3 ratchet with seven sockets, and six bit-sockets, is particularly useful. The brand new Stubby bit holder is extremely compact and has a magazine integrated in the handle, in which the six 25mm bits that are also included can be stored to save space. The ¼ inch "Wobble" extension with a pivoting angle of 15° in all directions allows for fast and precise working in tight and confined installation situations. Obviously, the popular bottle opener with the Wera handle, a collector's item, has to be included as in every year.

The entire screwdriving workshop can be conveniently stowed away in the included compact textile box, so that tool professionals and hobbyists always have it with them when they are on the job, and they can enjoy the tools from the iconic calendar in the New Year and beyond.

Wera Bit-Check 30

This year's Christmas Bit-Check, in attractive and advertising-free festive packaging, complements Wera's Christmas range and is sure to generate enthusiasm and grateful looks around the Christmas tree. The recipient will be well equipped for new projects with 29 bits and bit-holder included. Giving tool gifts like this can trigger real Christmas feelings.
